

I, as a free, independent thinking person would still like to be able to make at least some choices on my own. I am totaly against, as is the federal government (policie wise), a monopoly in any market. To allow a company, or group of company's to control, or set personal prefrence, is totaly in contrast to the free enterprise system we currently use. Well that is supposed to be in use.